On-Line Productions, Inc. has formed a new "Paranormal Alliance" across the country. We are networking with elite paranormal organizations and selected locations owners in an effort to preserve the history and visions of the past. It's an opportunity to reach out to the public, where you can tell the valid story, as well as the motivation behind securing the property. We target the historical angle of the haunting, which is extremely important, rather than just the ghost or spirits that reside within your location. Many home owners have put their heart and souls into preserving such a beautiful residence, and the dedication and efforts should be recognized as such. We take a respectable approach to paranormal investigations and assist in possibly putting together pieces of unanswered questions from subsequent years.

The public will be able to view these events uncut, uncensored true reality as it is happening. It's a look into what no one has dared to show you. Like nothing you have imagined, as your location is broadcasted to countless International viewers watching and taking part of the investigations as if they were really there.

These are real stories, real people, real places and real spirits. Whether you are a skeptic or a believer now is the time to take part in a new paranormal revolution.
